Two out, winning run was scored.
Score by innings:
RICHMOND..... 3 0 2 1 1 0 0 1-9
NEWPORT NEWS..... 2 0 0 1 2 0 3 0-8

Summary: Double plays—Gillespie to Tarleton; Newton to Laval. Left on base—Richmond, 7; Newport News, 8. Hits—OF Ray, 6 hits and 2 runs in 2-1-3 innings. Hit by pitched ball—Rogers, Chastant, twice, by Ray. Struck out—By Ray, 1; by Smallwood, 1. Wild pitches—Carter, 2. Time of game—1:50. Umpires—Norem and Williams.

It took every minute of the nine innings allotted for Richmond to win that game yesterday from Newport News, and then it wasn't what might be called a satisfactory score of victory. The score was 9 to 8.

Newport News started with two runs gained through an error by Connie Ursanahan, a base on ball issued by Willie Ray, our noted portpaw, and a two-base slam by Chastant. After all of that happened Richmond came back with three runs in their part of the opening chapter.

Sentz led with a hit, but was followed with outs by Moreland and Laval. After these two were gone the Griffins started in to do business. Nick Carter, who was chucking for the Builders, hit Jay Rogers; Newton's tap to the same Mr. Carter was safe, and Eberts drove one into left field. It all meant three runs and the game.

With a three to two lead staring them in the face, the followers of Harry Matthews began early to taste the dregs of defeat, but they didn't let it get to them. Our lads gained two more in the third when Newton hit and Ducky Eberts drove the ball over the top of Dempsey's head for a home run. After that it was merely a case of how soon the visitors could overcome the lead.

We added on in the fourth when Sentz hit for two bases and cashed on Moreland's drive. One more happened along in the fifth on Rogers's hit, Newton's out, a wild pitch and Ducky Eberts's squeeze. It didn't take a hit to score the one in the sixth. Dempsey dropped the ball, and Matthews caught Moreland's left and Sentz scored.

Newport News kept plugging along, scoring one in the fourth on a base on balls, a stolen base and Arthur Smith's hit. They got two more in the fifth on a hit by Matthews, Chick Davis's error and a hit by Goldth.

The three in the seventh, the three that knotted the score, were really parades. Rogers's near throw sent Smith to second. Quinn walked and Chastant was hit. With the bases filled, Manager Griffin yanked Ray and sent in Walter Smallwood. Tarleton, the first to face him, hit to center and when Ducky Eberts had a bad time holding the ball everybody scored, making it eight in all.

The deciding count came in the ninth. Sentz singled, went to second on Moreland's sacrifice and scored on Foker's safe knock after two were out and two strikes had been called.

Most of them called it a ball game.

R. A. A. F. TO HOLD WINTER MEETINGS

A meeting of the Richmond Amateur Athletic Federation was held yesterday at the Central Y. M. C. A. Matter of regular interest to the federation were discussed and it was decided to hold similar meetings twice a month during the winter season. The first of these was to be held on October 4 and was discussed, and the federation went on record as endorsing this move to awaken interest in outdoor athletics.

Secretary Toussie spoke of a plan to have the city build at Byrd Park a clubhouse to be open to the members of the federation, and this proposition will be more thoroughly discussed at a subsequent meeting. The applications of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia Athletic Association and the Richmond Athletic Association for membership were considered and favorably acted upon.

NORFOLK TAKES FIRST OF SERIES

Portsmouth Led Into Camp by Fighting Tars in Frigid Weather.

Norfolk, Va., September 11.—Norfolk took the first game of the final series from Portsmouth to-day by the score of 4 to 1. It was a good game, despite the fact that the weather was cold and overcast, and had been for some time. Barnhardt pitched a great game for the Tars, and cut off several chances for Portsmouth to score by his clever work. The support he received was of the sensational kind. Steinburner and Moren were the stars. The former scooped up hot ones that shot across second base like a shell from a warship. He got two with his bare hand and threw one of the runners out at first.

Moren played all over the field. He held a hit in right field so fast he cut a runner off before he reached second base.

On one occasion he made a runner, who had hit clean in his territory, slide to first base.

The Tars hit timely and ran bases well. If they win to-morrow and Richmond beats the Shipbuilders they will crawl out of the cellar. The score:

CAPTAIN HENRY G. POAGUE

Physical director at V. M. I. and man who will have direct charge of football team. He expects to turn out a winning team, and has much good material.

FOOTBALL PROSPECTS AT V. M. I. ARE GOOD

More Than 100 Candidates Out for Positions on Team—Head Coach Poague Will Be Assisted by Alumni Who Have Shone on Gridiron in Previous Years.

Lexington, Va., September 11.—The football season at the Virginia Military Institute opened this afternoon, when Captain H. G. Poague, athletic director and head coach, issued a call for men. Of the 300 cadets in barracks, about 110 answered the call, and for two hours were put through some light work as preparation for the heavier work later in the season. All of last year's old guard, with the exception of Moore, Kingman, Leech, Gutierrez and Patterson, who were graduated last year, were on the ground. Lowry and Richards are out for end, their old positions. Youell, the captain of the team, who made such a splendid record in the Virginia game, will probably go in as tackle. The other old men trying for tackle are Clark, Somers and Marshall. Beasley is found again at guard, with Munce and Cain out for the same position. Bain and Burgess are the backs.

With over 100 men out for football, however, no one's position is assured, and every one, even the veterans of several seasons, will have hard work to do. This fact was impressed on all at this afternoon's practice. The scrubs were put in full force and were doing fine work, many of them determined to win coveted positions on the varsity squad. Among the best of these men are Goodman, Conquest, Look, Robb, C. Christian, McCabe, W. Lewis, Kild, W. Allison, Murphy, Wagner, Royall, the Pitts brothers, McAnerney and Rutherford.

One of the most gratifying features of the first practice was the large amount of new material. Of the entire squad of 100 men at least forty were men who have just entered the institute this fall. Zen, of Strasburg, Va., and Gustavsson, of Norfolk, promised well for the line. Schwab and Gallagher, from the Augusta Military Academy, where they played splendid ball, the former as center and the latter as quarter, were conspicuous on the field. Barrett, a 200-pounder from Newport News, will probably make himself known before many more practices.

Some of the other new men who give special promise are Colburn, from Missouri; Mason and Ewell, from the Hampton H. S.; Izard, from Roanoke; Calks, from Oklahoma City; Lafferty, from the University of California, and Munce, from Richmond.

Not only is the number of men in the squad the largest in many years, but the coaching force is the very best obtainable. Henry G. Poague, who played on the team in the back field from 1906-10, and who for the past two years has been assistant coach, is now athletic director and head coach. Under him is a corps of very able coaches. Colonel J. C. Wise, class 1902, who, as a cadet, played end at the institute and later guard at Virginia, will give special attention to the guards, tackles and ends. Lieutenant Russell James, U. S. A., class 1905, who coached the back field on the institute the year he graduated, and later coached Hampden-Sidney, will coach the backs. Captain K. S. Purdie will assist with the guards, tackles and center.

In addition to this corps of resident coaches, the institute considers itself fortunate that a number of prominent football alumni have offered their services. Branch Johnson, who played guard on the institute as captain of the team, and later tackle at Virginia, and one year captain of the All-Southern, will spend two weeks here some time during the season. Major Roller, captain of the team the year the Virginia Military Institute was champion of the South, expects to spend ten days or more working with the team. Poague, of Newport News, will coach the ends. John Paul will take care of the halfbacks, while H. E. Hancock, old center, Peter Miller and Red Moore, last year's captain, will be here off and on during the season.

The first game of the season will be played with Hampden-Sidney on September 27.

The game itself was a heavy-hitting affair, ending 6 to 5 in favor of Pressley's Tigers.
